Hospital Wing Contribution Plaques Being Installed

When the local public joined in contributing toward the cost of the new wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital, gifts ranged all the way from 12 cents to $150,000 for a total exceeding $800,000. Now, as promised, larger donations are being recognized through plaques on hospital doors and walls.

The small bronze plastic-covered plaques are of uniform size and represent three categories—"in honor of," recognizing living persons; "in memory of," honoring deceased individuals; and "given by," in which the donor is listed, with no specific dedication.

Work of installing the permanent markers began Tuesday and is expected to be completed early next week.

Lobby Plaques

A large number of the plaques can now be seen on three wooden bases in the front lobby, immediately inside the outer doors to the new hospital office building. In general, each of these represents a contribution of $100 to $250.

Those amounting to $200 or more were for specific articles of equipment, rooms, departments, and even entire floors. Suitable plaques for these are being affixed to walls and doors, calling attention to the donors and those memorialized by the gifts.

While some of those honored through contributions have since passed away, the words reflecting their status at the time of the solicitation for funds to construct the addition, named in honor of Dr. Robert W. Binney, pioneer Granite City physician, are still valid.

Aided By All Faiths

Persons of all faiths and all walks of life joined in the community-wide effort. Industries and organizations gave generously, and individuals and families made contributions to the extent of their ability.

Mrs. Robert Dameron, office staff member in charge of the building fund, recalls many gifts of 25 cents and 50 cents from youngsters, and numerous $1 gifts, not to mention a large quantity of $50 and $100 contributions.

The over-the-top campaign resulted in presentation of a Civic Achievement Award to the drive co-chairmen, Charles P. White, head of G. W. Hoolcher, and Pershall sr. and the late John N. Marshall. The addition was dedicated and placed in use during the fall of 1960.

business agents, brought about the adoption of the 10-point program, which greatly improved conditions and the area's reputation. He cited as an example the blast furnace construction by Granite City Steel in 1956 and in 1960. Out-of-town contractors rated the area as one of the best in the country in 1956, but found conditions vastly improved and equal to a national average in 1960.

He pointed out that during the 1956 construction there were numerous jurisdictional disputes, while in 1960 they were none.

One Large Community

Hundley told the audience the prospects for industrial growth are bright for the area. He suggested the area would grow at a more rapid pace if the entire Illinois Metropolitan area would be one community with a new name, extending from Alton through the Quad-Cities.

In concluding, he said the problems of the area were solved by working together. "By continuing, we can make the East Side a better place to work and live."

Cadmus, relating the purpose of the apprentice program, said that while only eight were graduating that evening, there will be 21 next year and 30 the following year. He urged all members of the union as well as the apprentices to continue their studies.

"The materials with which we work are changing constantly and wood is rapidly being replaced with plastics, metals and new products. We must learn how to work with them and to make certain the new materials fall into the jurisdiction of the carpenters," Cadmus stated.

Special Guests

Special guests were members of the apprentice committee of the local union at Granite City (Cadmus, Howard Paschedag and Elery Rule), Collinsville, Edwardsville, Alton, Wood River, Greenville, Worden and Highland. Also recognized were officials of the local, including President Paschedag of Granite City Local 633 and Eugene P. Ellberg, chairman of the Carpenters District Council, as well as vocational school instructors within the Carpenters District. Others included Mrs. Harriet Junda, office secretary of Local 633, Dr. Kaiser, M. A. Witte-vrongel, Russell D. Johnson, Lawrence McCauley, Ralph Bell and Eugene Ainsel of the local school system; Mayor Davis; Gene Jette, secretary to Cong. Melvin Price; and Kenneth Ostendorf, secretary-treasurer to the carpenter union.

Marvin Wallace, a third-year apprentice, was master of ceremonies, and the invocation was given by Rev. James M. O'Connell of St. Elizabeth's Church, and the benediction by Rev. Paul Evans of First Assembly of God Church.

Bridick To Run

trate post after John Gitchoff, elected as magistrate four years ago, became assistant state's attorney.

Gitchoff did not resign but his county position conflicted with some magistrate cases. Also, his duties with the state's attorney office and his law practice left him less time to handle Madison hearings.

Klimes was asked to assist and had qualified to conduct hearings in Nemoqui township and the city of Madison. When Klimes became ill, Gitchoff and Venice township Justice of the Peace William Borekoff were among those assisting with hearings during April.

City officials said Klimes' ill health was learned of at the close of filing for the city election. He and other administration candidates were "unopposed on the ballot."

The city magistrate post, converted from a fee basis along with elimination of township office and his law practice, provides an annual salary of $3600.

Madison School Board

At the meeting, the board adopted a revised policy, following a survey of insurance needs which was completed this spring.

Brown said that rates under the replacement cost type of insurance were reduced about 25% for fire coverage and about 50% for wind damage coverage. At the same time, he said, coverage has been increased by some $38,500. Included are the new Blair and Harris elementary schools.

Insurance, Maintenance, Bus Contracts Ratified

A $3100 saving, in the form of a premium refund, is one benefit to be derived from the adjustment of building insurance in the Madison school district. Supt. Wensel Brown told members of the school board Tuesday night.

At the meeting, the board adopted a revised policy, following a survey of insurance needs which was completed this spring.

Brown said that rates under the replacement cost type of insurance were reduced about 25% for fire coverage and about 50% for wind damage coverage. At the same time, he said, coverage has been increased by some $38,500. Included are the new Blair and Harris elementary schools.

$2,838,838 Coverage

The new policies, which became effective May 15, show coverage totaling $2,838,838 on buildings as compared with $2,420,000 in the old policy; a net $221,500 in coverage on building contents and equipment as compared to $209,800 under provisions of the former policy.

Annual premiums will total $4590, Brown said, or $3100 less than was being paid under the old policy. Insurance claims will be handled through one agent, Frank Fijan of the Fijan-Maers agency, although a number of local insurance firms share in underwriting the policies, the superintendent said.

The school board voted to retain a student insurance policy presented in effect with the Old Security Life Insurance Co., John Mull of Bethalto, agent, as the underwriter.

Students Rates Same

The rates are the same as those of last year, with an annual premium of $2 for each student in kindergarten through the sixth grade and $2.50 in grades seven through 12. Twenty-four-hour coverage in both instances calls for an annual premium of $1.

Football insurance is included in the policy.

First Sweepstakes Winner Announced

The first top prizewinner in the Associated Retailers & Civic Association's eighth annual Sweepstakes promotion is Mrs. Edwin Jones, 2505 Adams street, who claimed her $250 award yesterday morning, only a few hours before the deadline.

Mrs. Jones said she is going to use some of the $25 certificate books to buy a present for her husband, Thomas, whose birthday is today.

Solons Ok $5000 Tax Warrant; Airport Fund

Meeting again last night in session recessed from Monday night, Granite City council members authorized issuance of a $5000 town fund tax anticipation warrant for the township, adopted a resolution allocating $611 for a bi-county airport feasibility survey and voted to forward a copy of the completed master plan and drainage engineering report to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The council, in its capacity as the town board of auditors approved borrowing of $5000 at 4% interest for the town fund to be used until the 1960 tax collection begins and new tax money is received.

Mayor Davis urged approval of the resolution for the city to allocate $611 as its share of the estimated $10,000 cost of a feasibility survey for location of a major airport in the Illinois Metropolitan Area.

Davis said the cost is being prorated on the basis of population between the municipalities of Madison and St. Clair counties and financial aid also will be provided by the Chambers of Commerce of the two counties. The funds will go to the Bi-County Airport Committee.

The survey is being sought by the Southwest Conference of Mayors of which Mayor Davis is president. The resolution was adopted unanimously by the 14 council members present for the recessed session.

Bi-State Will Seek $275,000 Federal Loan

Application for a federal loan of $275,000 to cover cost of a proposed engineering study in connection with the design and construction of levees, drainage structures and a pumping plant required for initial development of the St. Louis Industrial Park at the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers will be filed by the Bi-State Development Agency with the Community Facilities Administration.

The loan application was authorized by Bi-State commissioners during a meeting Tuesday in the agency's St. Louis office.

The action was an outgrowth of a February agreement between Bi-State and the St. Louis Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce industrial park corporation to operate in the development of three metropolitan projects—the industrial park, Columbia Bldg. and a major industrial park in metropolitan Illinois. The agency also plans to confer with mayors of the two states on a recently announced proposal to merge his firms.

New members of Bi-State attending a meeting for the first time were Edward M. Clark, director of Southwest Bell Telephone Co., who was appointed by Missouri Gov. Delton to succeed Marion R. Beaumont whose term had expired; and Edward Delmore Jr., appointed by Gov. Kemmer to succeed J. P. Schaffly Jr. of Alton, whose term had also expired.

Parking Meter Area Will Be Expanded

Granite City's parking meter area is to be enlarged, with meters to be placed on the east side of the 2000 block of Edison avenue north of the city hall building. The area now is marked with two-hour limit signs.

Alderman Arthur Wieser submitted the request, pointing out the east side of the street has changed extensively from residential to commercial with homes being converted to offices.

There now are meters along both sides of the street adjacent to the city hall and YMCA. The east side of the street north of the YMCA is to be left open for two-hour parking where there are no homes.

Alderman Charles Meyer, chairman of the Parking Meter committee, explained the 2,000 block of Edison avenue is included in the meter area and no amendment would be needed for the installation, which is to be carried out by the street department.

Pointing out that two traffic control ordinances which had been submitted for the Third Ward apparently had been misplaced after adoption, Wieser called for council concurrence to re-instate the ordinances specifying stop signs on Benton street at 22nd street and for a no-parking zone on the north side of Niedringhaus avenue from the railroad tracks east for a distance of about 150 feet. The members approved the request.

Madison Solons Back Horseshoe Lake Proposal

The Madison city council Tuesday night gave unanimous support to the proposed Horseshoe Lake development project, passing a resolution urging state approval.

The resolution calls for support by Gov. Kerner and legislators in approving an appropriation of $3,500,000 for development of the lake as a state park and wildlife preserve. The measure has been introduced in the House of Representatives.

Madison joins Granite City and Venice city councils in backing the measure, which was initiated by the Citizens' Horseshoe Lake State Park Commission, of which Henry D. Karandeff is chairman.

Mayor Stephen Maeras stressed the need for a recreation area, pointing to rapidly-expanding population, lack of nearby facilities and the economic impact.

He said the project has been under consideration for many times over the past 50 years, and that he hopes this time it will become a reality.

Plan Traffic Tickets

In other action, the council adopted an ordinance authorizing printing and issuing of traffic violation notices. The move was made as a convenience to motorists, who heretofore have had to appear in a magistrate or justice of the peace court following arrest for traffic violations.

The notices to be issued to violators not taken into custody will specify appearance within 48 hours.

Surety bonds for four city officials were accepted. They are for Maeras, $3000 bond; Percy Lux, city clerk, $2000; Dennis Nicholas, city treasurer, $15,000; and E. J. Miller, city comptroller, $10,000. The bonds were issued by the Maryland Surety Co., Baltimore.

The council heard a letter from E. W. Riefler, district highway engineer, asking a study be made of disaster damage to streets, dating back to 1956, in connection with a proposed federal aid program.

The letter was referred to Stanley Lucas, superintendent of streets and alleys, for preparation of the information.

Initial 1961-62 Appointments

Lucas was among city department heads reappointed for 1961-62 by Maeras at the meeting.

Others include Austin Lewis, corporation counsel; Nick Vasiloff, city attorney; Henry E. Dorf, chief of police; E. J. Miller, city comptroller; Harry R. Johnson, civil defense director; and Cecil Dant, superintendent of the city-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge.

Appointed to the police pension board was Charles Goff, for a two-year term; Joseph Purdes, fire and police commissioner, three-year term; and Henry Baucum, playground and recreation commissioner, five-year term.

Mrs. Nevenka Kacaloff, Mrs. Hetty Diamond and Mrs. Louise Lewis again were named to the Madison library board, for three years.

He also billed the city $25 for erecting a barricade, purchase of six red signal lights, 28 feet of rope, electric power and two hours flagging traffic. Several aldermen commented that Nemeth, who was unexcused just one meeting before his term of office expired on April 30, was not entitled to any pay since he had voted in the Sixth Ward in the April 4 election.

Nemeth is seeking $135 aldermanic pay and $80 in expense allowances for February, March and April.

Debate was brief on the proposed $97,000 new street designed to serve a new shopping center along Namekold road north of Poling road as well as to provide an additional thoroughfare with possible extension to West Fontenau road.

At the request of Alderman Frank Vesi, the motor fuel tax construction resolution deferred two weeks ago, was sent back to the Street committee for reconsideration.

Several aldermen said they had been told the resolution was not to be taken up during the meeting and that many interested persons were not present.

GC Softballers Rained Out, May Play Here Friday

Wet grounds probably will prevent Granite City's Clay AA softball club from making its first scheduled home appearance tonight at Wilson Park, but the contest may be rescheduled for tomorrow evening, Granite City park district Director of Recreation Harold Brown said at noon today.

Granite City had been scheduled to meet the Alton Chiefs in a non-league contest beginning at 7:30. The local club also was rained out of its game against SECED at Fox Park in St. Louis last night. Granite City has a 1-1 record in the tough loop.

Dean McGovern's club will travel to Aurora Saturday to engage the 1959 world tournament champion Sealmasters in a double-header slated to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Cash Register Taken
Two suspects are being questioned by Venice police in a burglary early Wednesday at the Fletcher barber shop and pool room, 1000 Calhoun street. A cash register removed from the building has been recovered.

The proprietor told police the cash register had contained about 100 pennies. A haap was removed from the front door of the establishment.

Police Promise Mudge Gambling Will Be Barred

Efforts to suppress gambling have been pledged by police of the Quad-Cities in response to a letter from State's Attorney Dick H. Mudge Jr., advising them of issuance of federal gambling stamps.

Mudge's letter included the following reference to bingo: "Now that spring is here, the bingo season approaches. Bingo for money or prizes of any intrinsic value is, as you know, a violation of the gambling laws."

He also wrote, "Slot machines or any coin-operated device not involving skill of the player sound says off in cash or prizes is a gambling device per se and may be confiscated by the police without a warrant or court order. Pinball machines are not gambling per se, but if it is illegal to play the game in cash or prizes if he wins free games."

No confiscations have occurred here, but Highland police made confiscations in two taverns, with one owner pleading innocent and the other pleading guilty and being fined $100 and $5 costs.

The sheriff's office is checking stamps in rural areas, including two watering stamps and nine coin-operated machine stamps in the Quad-City vicinity.

Warnings in GC
Granite City Police Chief Raymond Willard reported this week that investigations were made at eight locations where coin-operated gaming stamps were issued and no gambling was found. The proprietors were warned that gambling would not be permitted in pinball machines.

eral watering stamp issued to Russell Edwards and Tom York Jr. at 1800a State street was found to be invalid. The men told local authorities they had made application for a watering stamp in connection with a turkey shoot planned for a location along Route 111 near Horseshoe Lake, but the event was not held.

Granite City locations listed on Mudge's report were American Legion Post 113 at 2551 Madison avenue; Mae Bangert, Miss Mica's tavern, 2389 Edwardsville road; John Curtis Brown, State Sandwich shop, 1820 State street; Maurice N. Darnett, Ducktown Liquors, 1410 Twentieth street; Gaynell Harbarger, Ma-Bor-Hood Liquor, 2530 Nanticoke road; Samuel Nighthosian, Sammy's tavern, 921 Niedringhaus avenue; Robert E. Lowell and Paul Summers, Club Delmar, 1832 Delmar avenue, and Loyd Order of Moose 272 at 1500a State street.

In Madison Three Months
Madison police this week informed Mudge and Mayor Stephen Maerz that coin-operated machines have been in six establishments for about six months.

"We have checked and will check at very frequent intervals to see that these machines are not used for gambling purposes," Chief Barney Fraundorfer wrote, adding that "a constant surveillance will be made by our officers at these places of business."

The machines are "operated by 10 cents and five cents for each game, and you get five metal balls for the coin placed," the Madison department's letter noted.

Locations are listed as Cassius C. Garrett, Garrett's tavern, 801 West Jackson street; Clayton S. Harrison, Jug's Lounge, 925 Grand avenue; John E. Torney and Mayor John E. Lee, Venice Chief Robert Trower reported that no law violations had been detected but that the locations were checked and proprietors instructed by police to prevent their pinball machines from being used for gambling.

Venice machine locations are shown as Venice-Madison Post 307, American Legion, 740 Broadway; Joseph Goodrich, Goodrich tavern, 400 Broadway; Anthony DiVito, G & S Grill Broadway and Market street; and William R. Simmons, Simmons Junction tavern, 324 Broadway.

Trower said investigation of a watering stamp issued to Ada Barber, 1004 Calhoun street, showed that she has suffered a stroke and is confined to a wheel chair. Commenting on her illness and the death of Simmons, the chief said the federal list apparently is not up-to-date.

Santiago was the capital of Cuba until 1558.

Suspect In Smith Death Remains Hospitalized

Wanted on a charge of murder in the death of a Venice tavern owner during an exchange of gunfire last Sunday, Thomas Henry Lee, 27, St. Louis, remains a patient in the St. Louis City Hospital today.

He is in good condition following surgery necessitated by a .38-caliber bullet wound in the right groin, inflicted by the proprietor, William Smith.

Only new development in the investigation this week was a denial Monday evening by Mrs. Bobby Wampler that she was one of five St. Louisans booked by Venice police Sunday as a material witness.

If they had arrested a woman with her husband, it was something other than her, she told police officers. Mrs. Wampler said she is a church member and does not visit taverns. Her report was referred to Assistant State's Attorney John Githoff.

Rites For Mother Of Fred W. Diepholz
Last rites were held at 2 p.m. today for Mrs. Mary Diepholz, 85 of Edwardsville, mother of Fred W. Diepholz of Granite City. Services were conducted at Trinity Lutheran Church, Edwardsville, with burial at St. James Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Mrs. Diepholz died at 4 a.m. Tuesday at St. Joseph Hospital, Highland, where she had been a patient two days.

Elementary 'Sports Day' Here Monday And Tuesday

Contestants from each of the 14 elementary schools within the Granite City school district will compete in the eighth annual "Sports Day" events Monday and Tuesday at Frohhardt school.

Events for girls will be held on Monday from 1 to 4 p.m., with competition in the same events for boys to be held on Tuesday at the same time. All contestants will be fifth and sixth grade students.

Miss Barbara Kerch, supervisor of physical education in the elementary schools, will conduct the meet with the Frohhardt school physical education instructor, Glen Hastings.

Ribbons will be awarded to the first five place winners in each division and event.

Boys' and girls' events will be identical. Included are a softball throw for distance, shuttle run, standing broad jump, 50-yard dash, running high jump, 600-yard walk and run and an added event, the inter-school relay.

Preliminary eliminations are being held at each school to determine the individuals and teams which will compete in the day and Tuesday. Miss Kerch said.

"Events in this year are changed from those in some past years," she added, "since through study we have found it more important to develop all-around ability rather than concentrate in any one area."

C. of C. 'Playday' Set For Tuesday

The sixth annual "Playday" of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce will be held next Tuesday at Sunset Hill Country Club, Edwardsville, according to B. E. Hohl, chairman.

Aimed at providing fun, fellowship and relaxation for members and guests, the event will begin with a handicap golf tournament at 10 a.m., with prizes to be awarded. The chairman is Samuel L. Meyer.

Other special events, under the chairmanship of James Louis, will include fishing and horseshoe pitching.

A chuck wagon dinner will be held at 7 p.m. at the club house with Vernon Lich in charge. Awards will be made by Harold Karandjeff, chairman.

Karandjeff, who expects more than 125 persons to attend, said reservations may be made by calling the C. of C. office no later than noon Monday. The fee for the day-long affair is $7.50.

During the day, a hospitality committee will function. The

Park Pool To Be Open Temporarily May 27-28 And On Memorial Day

The Wilson Park swimming pool is being readied for another season this week, and preparations are being made to open the pool on three successive weekends prior to the beginning of the summer swimming period. Park Director of Recreation Harold Brown said today.

The pool is being cleaned today, and repainting will begin Monday. The filling process, which requires several days, is scheduled to begin late next week, and the pool will open temporarily on Saturday, May 27, and Sunday, May 28.

The pool will be closed on Monday, May 29, and then re-open for Memorial Day, Tuesday, May 30. It will be closed again until weekend of June 3 and 4, open for swimming on those two days, and then close again so that final preparations for the regular opening on June 10 may be made.

Swim Style Show A pre-opening style show will be staged postlunch the evening of June 8, with members of the YMCA Tri-Hi-Y club modeling swimming attire and Miss Pamela, teenage director, serving as moderator.

Swimming hours at the pool during the regular season and also the special pre-season sessions will be from 1 to 9 p.m., according to Pool Manager Elbert A. Roberts. Admission prices at all sessions are 60 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Season passes, available only to residents of the Granite City park district, will be available at the cashier's window, and are priced at $8 for adults and $5 for children.

Maroons Win Triangular Track Meet

Belleville high school's Maroons, helped by double victories by Gary Orr and Harold Gaubatz, rolled past host Granite City and Wood River Tuesday evening in a triangular track meet on the Warrior layout.

The Maroons totaled 82 1/2 points, Wood River 48 and Granite City 17 1/2. Gaubatz, the best weight man in the area this spring, tossed the shot 50-7 1/2 and had a measured discus throw of 138-9. Both were below his standards for the year. Orr dominated the distance running events, winning both the 880 and mile.

Other members of the group were Mike Vassileff, Charles Haug and Richard Lovell.

Centralia Is Hard Hit

5 Feet of Water in Streets,
Thousands Homeless in Area

Swollen rivers, creeks and lakes sent water spilling over highways, closing schools and factories and marooning families. Perhaps the hardest hit was Centralia, in Marion County, where water reached a depth of 5 feet in some city streets. "It looked mighty terrible for a long time," Centralia Police Capt. Charles E. Brantley reported. "But I think we're safe now. At least we're keeping our fingers crossed."

Sandbag crews worked through the day on the levee of Raccoon Lake, northeast of Centralia. For a time, water there rose 2 feet over the spillway. The lake is the main source of water for Centralia.

Floodwaters also caused the city's sewage disposal plant to be gutted by fire. Workers started out electrical equip-

Heavy rains in Central Illinois over last weekend caused the flooding of Fredman Bros. Furniture Store. The entire display floor and warehouse of the recently built one-level building was covered by water — forcing the closing of the store. All shipments of new merchandise have been rerouted to other Fredman Bros. Stores.

SANDBAGGERS—City employees work to sandbag doors and windows. The men on the trucks fill sacks while those in the water stack them to halt the flow of water into the building.

ASKS WHY POLICE DON'T ARREST ALL SPEEDERS

Mrs. Guyla W. Stuart wishes to announce that, since it seems imperative the public know all her personal affairs and all information pertaining to address, age, etc., all the facts might as well be known.

She was driving, according to the timer, 40 miles per hour in a 30-mile zone and was fined for speeding. "Isn't it a shame that all the hot-rodgers and speedsters aren't caught, instead of making an example out of just a few?" she says.

Two members were honored with life memberships at Tuesday night's Frohardt PTA meeting.

Mrs. Charles Rodell, president, conducted her last meeting and the officers for the coming year were installed by Mike Kavula, a past president.

The PTA prayer was read by Ralph Reeder, and the pledge of allegiance to the flag followed. Final reports of the year were heard from Mrs. Gene Casey, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Lewis Raina, room members chairman; Mrs. Russell Boush, saving stamp chairman; Mrs. John Haynes, parent education chairman; Mrs. Walter Pearson, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Don Jolly, girl scout representative; Joe Arico, program chairman; and William H. Late Tavern Closing

The tavern now has a high overhead, including over $100,000 for Illinois Dramshop Act insurance, he told the council. You just can't make a decent living unless you try a gimmick or catch. We tried a band but stopped it six months ago. We were making more money, but had so much trouble we were afraid we would be closed up," Healey said.

He forecast that there would be "very little trouble at all" if hands were barred and sold a band led to the 718 Club lounge, commenting that "since we got rid of the entertainment, we have had arguments but no fights or violence."

Piercen said most of his business is during the "late hours," remarking, "I feel we ought to be allowed to stay in business. The ones who own their buildings have got quite a bit in mind about the late hours. We are building it, or what could we turn it into to make a living?"

Healey said the proprietors work 70, 80 and sometimes 90 hours a week and yet earn only about half what they could if they were to work 40 hours. He said, "I guess it was more apt to happen when there was a crowd."

"I was talking to the chief the other day, and he said he was afraid that if his police men might be killed down here. It's the city's responsibility, because it has to look out for each and every one. It's up to the council to make the decision whether or not it's right for the majority, or if they feel it's not right they should, until they are defeated, vote their own conscience."

Warning On Revocation
Twelmin said the majority of the taverns have not been causing trouble, and the mayor said Class D license removal would have to apply to all taverns equally. He added that if a tavern has only a Class A license and continues to create "a lot of trouble, I feel they should have their Class A license taken away."

Poisoning Fatal To 500 Youngsters Each Year

Five hundred U. S. children die each year from accidental poisoning and there are 600,000 non-fatal cases yearly, Bernard Miller Jr., local druggist, told the Madison Rotary club yesterday. He showed slides and spoke on the topic, urging constant supervision of children, putting all poisonous liquids and substances under lock or out of reach, and educating children on the hazards as soon as they are able to understand.

Miller emphasized that virtually every household medicine, wax or other material is poisonous when consumed by children, especially in quantity, and said many people now purchase beer at prices comparable to the wholesale price to taverns and take it home with them to drink while watching television.

He said the $200 added to the $200 yearly license for a Class A license fee reduction, "although I think the fee in East St. Louis is twice as much as here."

Healey suggested that Class D licenses be available only to those with Class A.

Twelmin stressed music as the major issue, rather than hours, and raised the prospect of taverns going out of business. Dr. Lee said he is convinced they would be "hurt" but that action was necessary "for the betterment of the community."

Asked by Dr. Lee, all eight aldermen, and they fell action should be taken that night. The ordinance then was placed on the agenda and given final adoption, each roll called voting in an 8-0 vote. Dr. Lee declined to give details of the ordinance, but said it had been brought to the meeting.

Pharmacists Group Sees Film On Surgery

The Madison St. Clair County Professional Pharmacists Association met Tuesday evening at Grand Marais state park dining room. Attending from here were Bernard Miller Jr., William Duckworth, Edward Healey and Donald Vaughn.

The guest speaker was Dr. Pat Linn, who showed a movie on chest and heart surgery.

Public Frightened
Second Ward Alderman Hank Svezia said he had talked to 15 or 20 people Sunday and that all were "scared" because innocent bystander will get hurt.

Third Ward Alderman Louis Ratliff said he was "scary" but that action was necessary "for the betterment of the community."

Asked by Dr. Lee, all eight aldermen, and they fell action should be taken that night. The ordinance then was placed on the agenda and given final adoption, each roll called voting in an 8-0 vote. Dr. Lee declined to give details of the ordinance, but said it had been brought to the meeting.

Tent 90, DUV, To Be Honored At GC Depot

Members of Daughters of Union Veterans Tent 90 will be given special recognition during the Granite City Engineer Depot's "Armed Forces Day" celebration on Saturday. An open house invitation is being extended to Quad-Cityans by Col. Jack C. Jeffrey, commander, to visit and tour the installation, which is the largest of its kind in the United States.

The open house is set to begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. Lt. Col. Calvin C. Campbell, commander of the 593rd Engineer Group, has invited members of DUV Tent 90 to be present to witness the firing of a restored Civil War cannon.

Mrs. Sylvia Turner of Sarah Jane McEvers Tent 90, who is a depot employee, will serve as an honorary member of the gun crew. The century old cannon will be fired as a part of the Armed Forces Day opening ceremony on the depot parade ground.

Tent 90 contributed the wheels and axles, parts which could not be fabricated. Troops of the 188th Engineer Co. have been working on the cannon since last January.

A metal plate is being affixed to the hub of the cannon bearing the inscription—"Sarah Jane McEvers Tent 90, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, 1961 Civil War Centennial Committee for Tent 90, Sylvia Turner, Pearl Ward, Opal Mozier."

Throughout Armed Forces Day, there will be conducted tours of the depot as well as demonstrations and exhibits.

300 To Graduate June 15 At SIU'S New SW Campus

Dr. Harold Taylor, author and former president of Sarah Lawrence College, will deliver the commencement address for Southern Illinois University's 300 Southwestern Illinois Campus graduating seniors at Edwardsville June 15.

Ceremonies will be held on recently acquired estate which forms the heart of the university's new Edwardsville campus. Beginning at 7 p. m., they will take place in a natural amphitheater located 200 yards east of the estate mansion. The overlooks a small river, late in which the surrounding fields and countryside are reflected.

"It is most fitting that the second commencement for the Southwestern Illinois Campus be conducted in this setting which will be the central core for future buildings on the university's new campus," SIU President D. W. Morris said.

"It will mark the first commencement program in which the majority of the graduates will have done all of their study at East St. Louis and Alton. 'June 15, therefore, will be a most significant day in the careers of the graduates and in the life of this new Southwestern Illinois Campus.'"

Band Concert
The commencement program will consist of a brief band concert, the commencement address by Dr. Taylor and the awarding of degrees. The entire ceremony is expected to take not more than one and a half hours.

Dr. Taylor first attracted national attention in education when he became president of Sarah Lawrence College in 1945 at the age of 31. During his 15 year presidency, the famous women's college pioneered numerous new ideas in higher education which were later adopted by other institutions throughout the nation.

Since resigning his post in 1959 to free himself for travel and further study of higher education, Dr. Taylor has traveled and lectured extensively both in the United States and abroad under grants from the Ford Foundation. He is host on the ABC television network program, "Meet The Professor." The author of two books dealing with problems in higher education, Dr. Taylor is currently writing two other books.

Sky Steelers Offer 'Learn To Fly' Instruction To Beginning Modelers

The Tri-City Sky Steelers Model Airplane club has inaugurated a "learn to fly" program for young modelers who have purchased ready-to-fly equipment or who are interested in model flying but do not have equipment of their own. Sky Steelers President John Blum said today.

As a part of "club flying night," held each Wednesday evening on the athletic field at Coolidge junior high school, the Sky Steelers will offer instruction to youngsters — utilizing the club's own training equipment.

"We would like to invite these boys, and their parents, to come out on a Wednesday night so that we can help the boys learn to fly," Blum said. "They don't necessarily have to be a member of the club although we are, of course, trying to promote new memberships."

The Wednesday evening sessions also attract club members who are testing new equipment, practicing patterns for stunt competition, giving lessons to junior and beginner members of the club and just enjoying in general flying for the fun of it.

"We feel that the beginner can learn a lot by just watching senior members fly, and can save money by getting the experienced advice that is available," the club president continued.

Dual Control Trainers He said that the Sky Steelers have available trainers equipped with dual controls "which are practically fool-proof," enabling the novice control line model flyer to get the feel of flying a model without having to worry about "tearing it up."

The beginner already may lean toward one particular phase of model flying, and whether it be flying scale, combat, "rat-racing," stunt, gliders, free-flight, propped or radio-controlled flight he will find enthusiastic proponents of any and all of these classifications among members of the Sky Steelers, Blum commented.

Model flying is not "cut and dried," Blum noted. An inventive group, modelers have come up with a new classification called "Navy carrier." It is precision flying strictly for the experienced modeler, and includes landings and takeoffs from the simulated deck of a miniature aircraft carrier. Blum said the Sky Steelers group is considered by its membership to be an "area enthusiasts' club." "I believe this needs emphasizing in the Madison, Venice and Mitchell areas," he remarked.

"Naturally, we could like to see our membership enlarged to include every modeler in the area. But we realize that not all modelers are this serious minded. However, we are offering help to any and all modelers requesting it," he concluded.

Saturday Night

A round-robin rolloff, with a total of $800 in prize money at stake, will occupy the top four finishers during the regular season in the Southern Illinois Bowling Proprietors Classic league at the Plaza Bowl in Belleville Saturday night.

The top prize of $300 will be three-time league champions, the Alton Falstaffs, runners-up Granite City Bowland Schultz, third-place Revere Room of Collinsville and fourth-place (finisher Black Label) Beer of Belleville.

"The rolloffs will begin at 6:30 p.m., and a long legging session will be in store, since each finalist rolls three games against each of the other prize seekers — nine games in all."

Overall won-lost records will determine the distribution of the prize money. Second place is worth $250, third $185 and fourth $105.

Members of the Schultz entry, which had a 53%-41% record in SIBPA league play, are Max Legate, Jim Berry, Jim Vrenick, George Wolfe, Ray Hoffman, Nick Lombardi, Yock Lombardi and Wilbur Smith.

Hearts Will Seek To Deraill Moose Express On Sunday; Mercers Host To Carpenter

Glen Gutjahr's Moose Lodge No. 4, only team which remains undefeated today in the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball league, will be the intended victim Sunday of Granite City Sacred Heart players, who find themselves in fourth place in the five-team Rod division.

The Moose, made up of the most part of last year's State Savings and Loan players, has emerged victorious in three straight outings and has averaged better than 10 runs per contest during the young season.

The Hearts will be attempting to break a two-game losing streak in a game scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Sunday at Jones Park in East St. Louis. Lyman Tucker's club, while statistically not the run-producer that the Moose club has been, is averaging above five markers a contest but has not been getting the pitching or fielding necessary to win.

The club has allowed 30 runs in three games, and its one victory came by a one-run margin. Mercer Funeral Home also finds itself in fourth place — but in the Blue division — with the same 1-2 record as owned by the Hearts. And Mercer's also will be looking to break a two-game losing streak Sunday when the Olite Miller aggregation plays host to winless Carpenter at Wilson Park. Likewise, Carpenter has lost two in a row.

Servicemen's Activities To Highlight Armed Forces Day At GC Depot

MEALTIME IN THE ARMY hasn't changed a bit since war II or even war I as depot soldiers "sweat out" the chowline while on a march.

CONFIDENCE COURSE (formerly obstacle course) puts depot servicemen through arduous paces to keep them trim.

'Open House' Begins At 9 a.m. Saturday

KEEPING IN SHAPE and having fun, a tug-of-war will be featured at Saturday's open house. It's part of the training program at the depot.

OPERATING HEAVY ENGINEER equipment is part of the military training schedule at the local Army depot.

RETREAT CANNON goes off for the lowering of the flag, a daily ceremony at the depot. In the background are the troops standing at attention.

HOBBY SHOP FACILITIES are furnished depot servicemen for off-duty pastime. The shop is fully-equipped with machine and hand tools.

All Photos by Engineer Depot Photographers

All Quad-Cityans are being invited by Col. Jack C. Jeffrey, commander, to take part in the Granite City Engineer Depot's annual observance of "Armed Forces Day" on Saturday with an open house starting at 9 a.m. This year's "Power for Peace" theme stresses the training and activities of the servicemen and the surrounding pictures on this page show many phases of the program carried out at the local depot.

The local depot, which will be 19 years old in August, is the largest of its type in the country and in many of its operations serves all military installations within the continental United States and overseas including the Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force. Average employment is 1200 persons not including more than 600 military personnel. Equipment valued at over $8,000,000 is overhauled annually in the maintenance shops by depot personnel.

$6,000,000 Annual Payroll
The annual civilian and military payroll tops $6,000,000 after payroll deductions, which are over $300,000 a year for U. S. Savings Bonds. In addition, contributions made by the government toward employee benefit programs, amounted to over $500,000 annually for insurance and retirement plans.

The depot spends annually over $2,000,000 for local purchases of equipment and supplies and utilities and services. It's role in the Quad-City community isn't all military.

Depot employees and servicemen by the hundreds participate in community functions — from soldiers marching in parades to fathers and mothers managing youngsters' baseball teams, Boy and Girl Scout troops.

Community-Minded
The employees and servicemen belong to and actively participate in local veterans' organizations, civic groups and clubs. A high percentage is active in churches as teachers or deacons, and the depot is noted for its outstanding role in the annual United Fund campaign.

In serving the community, the depot has sent its own firefighting equipment into each of the local cities when called upon for assistance. In local disasters, its equipment and personnel are available, and a recently added service has been the bomb disposal squad which spends considerable time disarming discarded war souvenirs. Such a demonstration will be given during Saturday's Armed Forces Day observance.

Col. Jeffrey said the depot is one of the vital elements in the vast system of national defense, fulfilling its part in the overall responsibility of the Corps of Engineers in the receipt, storage and issuance of general engineer supply items.

6 Basic Missions
Basically, the missions of the depot are (1) supply, (2) maintenance, (3) packaging, (4) troop training, (5) consolidated surplus sales and (6) engineer field maintenance at Nike sites.

The supply mission in the military field is the receipt and storage of general engineer material and shipping general engineer supplies and equipment to

COL. JACK C. JEFFREY, depot commander, who is extending an invitation to Quad-Cityans to tour the depot Saturday for the observance of Armed Forces Day.

During periods of normal operation, the depot consumes an average of 115,600 gallons of water a day.

SILHOUETTED against the evening sky are soldiers on a routine march along the Chain of Rocks canal levee as a part of the depot military training program.

CULTURE is not overlooked with frequent displays at the servicemen's club. The depot also has its own chapel and movie house.

military installations within a 15-state area.

The maintenance mission is of a broader scope for engineer equipment used by installations within a 15-state area; and on a national scale, the local depot performs maintenance operations of engineer photographic and map reproduction equipment, searchlights, odographs and other items involving the use of infra-red and electronic devices. This includes maintenance of instruments of the engineer civil works activities, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force.

In the packaging mission, the depot handles the Corps of Engineers packaging program for preservation of equipment. This pertains not only to the C. of E. but also, on call, to other government agencies. In packing equipment, markings and instructions are included.

Troop Training Role

Troop training is provided in the field of engineer supply for the U. S. Army reserve units assigned military field training. There is an Army school in the repair of topographic instruments and map reproduction equipment.

The local depot also serves as a consolidated surplus sales office for the Department of Defense to provide technical assistance and guidance for the sale of surplus government equipment at not only the depot but also Fort Leonard Wood, the St. Louis Area Support Center and Scott Air Force Base.

Engineer field maintenance is provided for Nike-Hercules batteries located at Pacific, Mo., and Pere Marquette Marine and Hecker, Ill.

Started In 1942

Historically, the depot is 19 years old. Construction was started April 3, 1942, and four months later on Aug. 17, the first contingent of operating personnel arrived.

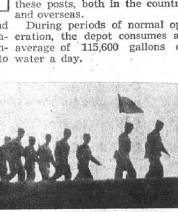

The Granite City Engineer Depot covers a 906-acre tract and has 189 buildings.

Its storage facilities include 547,000 square feet of general purpose warehouse, 1,500,000 square feet of controlled humidity warehouse, 20,000 square feet for flammable storage, 811,000 square feet of shed and non-warehouse space, 9,650,000 square feet of improved open storage space and 1,108,000 square feet of unimproved open storage space.

To serve these storage facilities, the depot operates two locomotives over 29 miles of track and has 19 miles of paved roads.

Annually, the depot receives about 21,000 tons of supplies from Army posts both within the U. S. and overseas and from depots of other branches of the Armed Forces. It ships annually about 17,000 tons of supplies to these posts, both in the country and overseas.

During periods of normal operation, the depot consumes an average of 115,600 gallons of water a day.

LEARNING SPEC AND PART NUMBERS of engineer equipment is all part of the training at the depot.

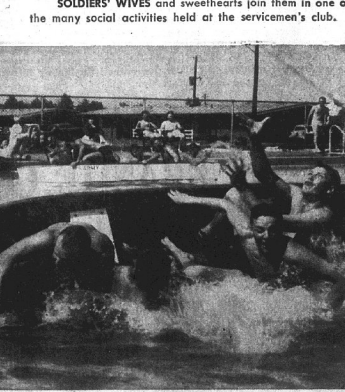

SERVICEMEN'S OWN ORCHESTRA furnishing music for a social function.

BARGAIN BOWLING at the depot's own bowling alley is another of the recreation facilities for the servicemen.

SOLDIERS' WIVES and sweethearts join them in one of the many social activities held at the servicemen's club.

SWIMMING is another activity available to soldiers at the Engineer Depot here with the Army furnishing the boats. Recently completed within the confines of the installation is a 9-hole golf course with 27 tees.

6 Rules Set To Avoid Accidental Poisoning

Measures in preventing accidental poisoning in the home were listed in a talk by Bernard S. Miller Jr. of Miller drug store before the Granite City Kiwanis Club Monday at the Ellis lodge.

Miller, a member of the Madison County Pharmacists Association, spoke with the aid of a film in making his third appearance before service clubs.

He listed six rules to apply in preventing mishaps among children of five years of age and under. They are to keep medicines, household preparations, insecticides, and petroleum distillates out of reach; discard old prescriptions; read and follow direction on labels; observe cautionary statements on labels and packages; store in original packages; and keep medicine separated from dangerous agents.

Miller also cited closer supervision and more education to point up the hazards among children in the young age group.

For treatment, a poison control center is available at St. Elizabeth Hospital and persons may telephone TR. 6-2020, extension 224 in emergency cases.

To be most effective, antidotes must be administered during the first 15 minutes, he said, suggesting that numbers of the family doctor and control center be kept near the telephones.

Present for the meeting were 22 members. William Herman vice-president, was program chairman.

GC May Place Inhalators In Police Patrol Cars

Study is being given a suggestion being during Monday night's council session for Granite City police patrol cars to be equipped with inhalators.

The recommendation was made by Alderman Charles Meyer, who said it would be an expansion of a proposal made several weeks ago by Alderman Walter Nomm for such a unit to be placed at the West Granite fire station. At present, the city inhalator is kept at the main fire house at 23rd street and Madison avenue.

Meyer pointed out police patrol cars are radio equipped and on patrol in various sections of the city, being quickly available. He suggested the matter be given more study to include the purchase in the city's 1961 - 62 budget.

Budget Work Begins

BEGIN PISTOL SHOOT

The Horseshoe Lake Rod and Gun Club started its pistol shoot Sunday. Although the club still had about four inches of water in the building from the flooding, there was a fair turnout. Those who came either walked or arrived in boats.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Robinson went to St. Clair, Mo., for a weekend visit, with Mrs. Robinson's father, John W. Vaughn, in the weekend.

Shot Fired Through Window At GC Home

A .22 caliber bullet was found between a storm sash and window at the James Sinnett home, 1317 Clark avenue, Tuesday afternoon when police were notified by Mrs. Sinnett that she had discovered the broken windows in the dining room on the east side of the house.

Mrs. Sinnett told Granite City detectives she had heard a noise about 10:30 p.m. Monday but at that time was unable to determine what it was. She discovered Tuesday that both the regular window and storm window in the dining room had been broken.

Holes were found in both panes of glass. She could offer no reason for the vandalism.

What do Illinois Power "profits" mean to me?

Illinois Power earnings are shared by thousands of people. Some are direct owners of stock in this investor-owned company. Many other thousands benefit indirectly... through their investment in mutual funds, pension plans and life insurance. It's quite likely that you, too, are either a direct or indirect owner of Illinois Power or some other utility company.

By increasing our sales, by strict control of operating efficiency, and by rendering the best service we know how to give, Illinois Power again operated at a profit during the past year. This is in the American tradition of doing business at a profit... the system that has given Americans the highest standard of living in the world.

And, as Illinois Power profits, so do the communities it serves... so do its thousands of employees... so do its stockholders... and so do its customers.

Farm Column

By TRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Adviser

Following our recent discussion about managing dairy cattle at the start of the pasture season, let's consider briefly the feeding of grain at this time of year along with the pasture.

To avoid weight losses in dairy cattle and to keep milk production at a high level, continue feeding grain and mineral when your herd goes on pasture. However you can stop feeding protein supplement.

Fast growing, early spring pasture is high in protein. Therefore, cows need a grain ration relatively low in protein, but high in energy.

A mixture of corn and oats will do an excellent job of providing the energy and protein needed to supplement early, rapid-growing spring pastures.

Cows will take care of their own mineral requirements if they have free access to the mineral mix in a weather-protected feeder or mineral box. Give them a mixture of steamed bone meal and salt in equal parts.

In addition, it's best to give the cows free access to either block salt or loose salt in a weather-protected box. Dairy-men can keep spring pasture low by feeding protein supplements only when pastures start to mature in late spring and summer.

A well-equipped farm shop where a farmer can do much of his machinery repair and maintenance work can reduce operating costs substantially. An example of a good shop is on the Max Rogers farm in Helvetia township operated by his son, Jonathan.

The shop also can be used, of course, for building most farm equipment like feeders, racks, troughs and the like.

Your shop should be of the proper size and arrangement to fit your individual needs. Whether located in one end of the machine shed or in another building, it should have one large service door 12 to 16 feet wide and 9 to 11 feet high. A "man door" should also be provided so the operator will not need to open the large service door except when moving equipment in or out of the building. A concrete apron or approach, is also recommended. Windows should be located on at least two sides of the building for light and ventilation. Good insulation is recommended for year-round comfort.

Two large hay feeding racks recently were built in the Hogler shop. Equipment of this kind saves a lot of labor in feeding cattle. A man handy with tools and with a good farm shop can build racks and other things at comparatively low cost.

Vernon Miek of Marine township built a large hay rack for his dairy cattle from plans from the farm adviser's office. He is well pleased with the construction. It is mounted on heavy runners so it can be moved. The size is 5 feet wide and 18 feet long. Vernon built another rack 4 by 14 feet.

Plans for many kinds of farm equipment and buildings are available at the farm adviser's office.

The heavy rains have delayed field work about two weeks on most farms. Just a few farmers had started to plant corn when the rains came. Some low, slowly-draining fields now covered with water may not get planted to corn or soybeans until very late, perhaps in some cases not at all.

Some serious soil erosion occurred on sloping fields being prepared for planting.

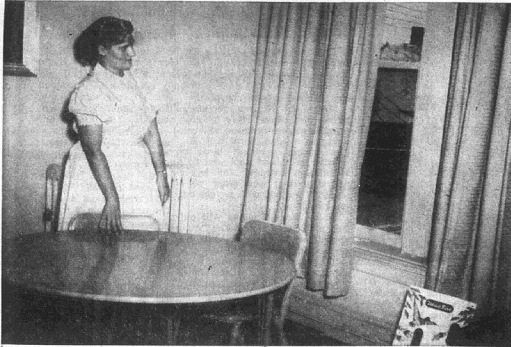

Unless heavy rains continue, this year still could be considered better than last year, when there was so much damage from rain and windstorms the last three days of June.

Rainfall in this area since Jan. 1 is now about six inches above normal, approximately 12 inches in most parts of the county compared to a normal of 12 inches for this much of the year. The rains of May 5 to 8 measured more than 8 inches in many communities.

The ten highest producing herds in the Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the last month of testing were the herds owned by Elmer Klenke, C. C. Becker & Son, Vernon Becker, Vernon Warnerke, Clarence Slevens, Arthur Brundmeier, Glenn Melfert, Norman E. Henke, Waldo B. Kriebach and Harold Baumann.

Madison county farm operators and owners have signed up to date in the feed grain program to divert a total of 13,574 acres from the production of feed grains, states the county ASC office. It is expected that several thousand more acres will be added to this figure before the sign-up closes May 26.

CHILDREN'S PLAY THERAPY ROOM at the local mental health clinic, one of two such rooms just completed and placed in use, is shown being inspected by Mrs. Jo Crouch, psychiatric social worker. Drapes, furniture and painting were financed by a $562 contribution from the East St. Louis and Tri-Cities Hair Dressers and Cosmetologists Association, and the supports for a table tennis table were made and provided by Granite City high school pattern shop students. Children's therapy formerly was conducted in the clinic office.

The total feed grain base acreage in Madison county is 94,300 acres, calculated from the average acreage of corn and grain sorghum grown in the county in 1959 and 1960. The diverted acreage contracted to date represents a reduction of about 15 percent in feed grains.

Townships with the most farmers signed so far are St. Jacob, Helvetia, Saline, Pin Oak and Jarvis.

Some tests to check on the value of a new chemical designed to reduce evaporation of water from farm ponds will be made in Madison county on about 15 ponds this year. Working together on this project are the State Department of Water Resources, the agricultural engineering department of the University of Illinois and the Soil Conservation Service.

Right now the ponds have plenty of water, and losses from evaporation appear of little consequence.

sequence. But with some hot, dry weather, a lot of water evaporates.

Another new test we will conduct this year will be the effect of seed treatment with cobalt on soybeans. Agronomists have long been puzzled over the failure of soybeans to respond as consistently as most other crops to fertilizers. Good increases usually have been obtained on soils that test quite low. Results of some research work indicate that cobalt is essential to the fixation of nitrogen by soybeans and clover, and that addition of cobalt when the seed is inoculated may increase nitrogen fixation.

More new activity on the year's agenda will be some trials of several new fly-control chemicals on three dairy farms.

A tomato variety test plot is being planted on the farm operated by the Struckeljohn brothers in Nameoki township.

Motorist In Accident Faces Charge

A charge of failure to keep his motor vehicle under control was placed against Joseph W. Rainwater Jr., 40, of 2937 Fortune drive, following an accident Tuesday night in the 2600 block of Washington avenue in which a parked car was damaged. Rainwater posted his driver's license as bond.

The police report states Rainwater posted his driver's license as bond.

The police report states Rainwater was driving north and his auto went to the wrong side of the street to strike the parked car belonging to James Settle, 2659 Washington avenue.

Council Buys Parking Meter Servi-Car

A lone bid of $1278, submitted for a new parking meter service, was accepted Monday night by Granite City council members. It was submitted by Bud Harley-Davidson shop, 15th street and Madison avenue.

Comptroller John Doobler said bid specifications were sent to three firms, but only one bid was received.

The proposal lists $1728 as the cost of the vehicle with a $450 trade-in on a 1957 model. The new vehicle is to be used by parking meter patrolmen and will be purchased from parking meter funds.

A decision to buy the new machine was made last month when the council learned repairs to the 1957 three-wheel motorcycle cost several hundred dollars.

Mandate For 14 Aldermen To Approve Fluoridation

If Granite City aldermen want to follow the wishes of the public, as expressed in the April city election, they have no choice but to vote favorably on water fluoridation. An analysis of the election indicates a 16-0 council vote would be justified, in view of the citywide result, or 14-2, if the aldermen were to vote exactly as their ward's constituents voted. Instead, fluoridation was voted down after the election by the same council that had decided to "leave it up to the people."

In Wards One, Two, Three, Five and Eight, every precinct recorded a majority of ballots favoring fluoridation. Ward Six saw fluoridation win out in seven of the eight precincts, and Ward Seven in two of three. Only in Ward Four would there seem to be any valid reason for opposition, since the proposal lost in both precincts, but even in this case there is some inherent responsibility for aldermen to represent the people of the entire city, as well as their neighborhood.

Aldermen Nunn and Benesch of the Fifth Ward can say correctly that they have opposed fluoridation from the start, since they also voted against putting it on the ballot, but their stand is hardly bolstered by the public's majority vote favoring the dental decay prevention measure in both Fifth Ward precincts. Even weaker are the positions of Aldermen Skubish, Shackelford and Vesel, who voted "Yes" on referring the issue to the people, saw their precincts, wards and city cast "Yes" ballots and then reversed themselves and the public by voting "No" when the fluoridation motion was introduced.

Granite Cityans and other Quad-Cityans want and need this proven health program, and the election has made fluoridation an issue that cannot be ignored. Any further delay by council members inevitably would cast doubt on the sincerity of the original action in placing fluoridation on the ballot.

We wonder if Mayor Davis and the aldermen who voted against fluoridation would be as willing to deny their own elections by the people as they have been to deny fluoridation, which also won in the election?

Local Taxes This Year Will Average $132 Per Capita

Real estate and personal property taxes in the Quad-Cities are no inconsiderable item but, thanks to the heavy industrial and commercial taxpayers, the load on individuals is much less than it otherwise might be.

Even so, on the basis of 65,000 population in the Quad-Cities area, the per capita tax for local services this year averages $132. An average family of four will pay $528; those who pay less than this amount are getting an "assist" from the above-$528 taxpayers.

All of which gives added emphasis to the importance of encouraging expansion of local industries by all proper means (local expansions account for 80% of job growths), as well as attraction of new industries.

Depot An Outstanding Example Of Nation's Military Bases

A good neighbor, staunch friend in time of need and vital cog in the nation's defense system. The Granite City Engineer Depot is all of these things, and merits the honors that will be accorded by the community on Armed Forces Day Saturday, when there will be an open house for the public.

Huge in size, in employment, in the storage of equipment and material and in its maintenance and repair program, the local Army installation has a significant economic impact on the Quad-Cities. Yet its value cannot be measured entirely in its salutary effect on the local economy or in its contributions to America's "power for peace."

Whenever there is a parade to be held, "bomb scare" to be investigated, fire to be fought, golf facilities to be provided, organizations to be addressed or levee to be defended from flood waters, the Engineer Depot military and civilian staff has stood ready, willing and able to lend assistance.

In thinking of the Quad-Cities, people generally have in mind Granite City, Madison, Venice and Mitchell. But the Depot, virtually a city in itself, is an integral part of the local community though technically a federal island free from Illinois jurisdiction.

The warmth and close ties between the Quad-Cities and the Engineer Depot are not always the rule for such relationships, but they are a reality here because of a mutual spirit of friendship, respect and cooperation. The community's special "salute to the Depot" of a few years ago was well deserved, and the same high tradition is still being maintained by the Army base.

$79 Million Purchasing Power In Quad-Cities

The record $79,278,194 figure for 1960 determined by the Illinois Department of Revenue indicates solid and substantial purchasing power in the Quad-Cities. Reflected by both sales and use taxes, the local buying has soared to an astronomical level twice as high as that of the early and middle 1950s.

While the July-December buying of nearly $49 million was a major factor in the past year's total, there has been a steady upward trend here since the recession of 1958.

As reported by 725 business establishments in Granite City, Madison, Venice and Mitchell, purchasing in 1960 compared to 1958 was up $27 million—$22½ million for manufacturers, a $2 million gain in the retail automotive field, a half-million rise each in food, service stations and restaurants—taverns and about a quarter-million each in furniture, general merchandise, apparel and miscellaneous goods. Only in the hardware field has the 1958 level held.

Figures do not always convey the message, but in anyone's language $19 million represents a lot of groceries and $7 million a lot of cars. Bolstered by continuing attention to customers' needs, Quad-City firms have built up a solid base of business early in the decade when postwar population gains will begin leaving their biggest imprint on the U. S. economy.

Venice Officials Cast Vote For The People, Against Main Street Violence

Venice aldermen and Mayor Lee deserve praise for their firm stand opposing continuation of Main street as an all-night center of drinking and violence. In returning the tavern closing hour to 1 a.m. other days and 2 a.m. on Sunday, the city officials have inaugurated a new era for Main street and the entire city.

Under an "anything goes" approach of past years, St. Louisans began frequenting Venice taverns after their own taverns closed down. Fights, beatings and shootings became commonplace, and there was a general lawless atmosphere despite officers' efforts to jail "troublemakers." Gambling often was included among the attractions, and the 4 a.m. closing hour was disregarded much of the time.

Citizens and city officials have become increasingly aware of the conditions and the disrespect for law and order that the conditions spawned. Last weekend's shootings triggered the action against late tavern operations, but this surely would have occurred eventually. In fact, as Mayor Lee has pointed out, earlier action could have prevented the killing and wounding.

Times have changed but Main street unfortunately has not. Thanks to the city officials' desire for a safe, law-abiding community, the Main street section now must adopt a new code of conduct if it is to survive.

C. of C. Highway Group To Meet On River Route

The transportation and highway committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce will meet at 4 p.m. Friday to discuss the proposed federal aid river highway to run from Alton to East St. Louis, according to A. W. Morris III, chairman.

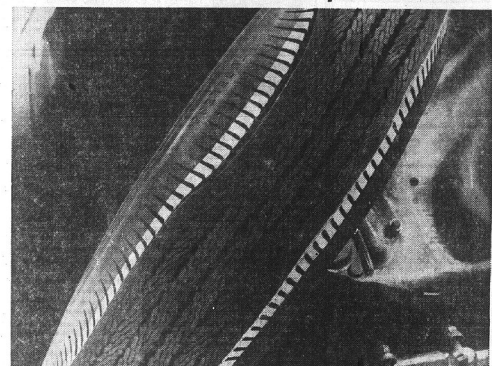

The committee is studying the proposed route and is to make recommendations to the state highway department on its findings. Represented on the committee are members of local governments, the Bi-State Agency and Tri-City Regional Port District agencies and area businesses.

The route is to run near the canal harbor area and will pass through Venice.

NEW! our B.F. Goodrich Silvertown puts more rubber where tires work most, wear most Action photo shot through glass shows BFG's BIG EDGE tread is miles ahead of other tires in mileage and safety. Where do your tires wear out fastest? B.F. Goodrich found out from pictures, like the one above, and many other tests that today's tires wear out first in the outer edges—not in the center. Now our BFG Silvertown with the revolutionary Big Edge tread beats this wear by packing more rubber into the outside ribs. Up to twice as much rubber as any other major brand, first-line tire! This gives you a big edge in mileage and safety. Yet our Silvertowns cost no more than other first-line tires. Don't wait to see the eye-opening demonstration of THE BIG EDGE. Drive in today!
